Accommodations in Venice

June is already high season and it is advised to book early.

There are many Hotels in Venice at all levels of pricing.

Apartments and B&B are also a good solution.

For logistical convenience choose within the circled area called "Castello".

Lido is a budget alternative but requires using the waterbus to get to town and Marina.

Also we have negotiated with the European University in Venice the possibility to use their lodging facilities that are located in the island of San Servolo.

The rates are € 180 per night for a double room and € 185 for single room: if you are interested to this accommodation please contact Compagnia della Vela at segreteria@compvela.com

Please consider that the island is accessible only by public transportation (limited in the night) or by private boat / water taxi.
